The image shows a hand-drawn style map of Seoul, South Korea, with numerous districts outlined in red, yellow, or blue. The map is set against a background of a city's street grid and some green areas. Overlaid on the map are several lines of Korean text. At the top, the text reads "하다보니 잘 되는 구나" (Hada bo ni jal deun gona), which translates to "It turns out well when you do it like this". Below that, another line reads "그러게 좀 그럴듯하게 살자니까!" (Geureuge eom geurraldugae saljajinakki!), meaning "Let's live like this, it's more reasonable". In the bottom right corner, there is a label "죽전출판" (Kukjeon Chulpahn), which is the name of the publisher.
